Journal of Amazing Results

Dear Editors,

I wish to submit a manuscript for publication in Journal of..., titled 'Cool title'.

This study proposes a [...]. I believe that my study makes a significant contribution to the literature because it provides [...].

Furthermore, I believe that this paper will be of interest to the readership of your journal. First, it offers a novel way to understand how [...]. Second, it explores [...]. Lastly, this paper presents the [...].

This manuscript has not been published or presented elsewhere in part or in entirety and is not under consideration by another journal. I have read and understood your journal's policies, and I believe that neither the manuscript nor the study violates any of these. There are no conflicts of interest to declare.

Thank you for your consideration. I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours faithfully,
